THE DAILY AVALANCHE

Competition has placed the fare from New York to Albany, 150 miles, at 50 cents.

Ireland has but five millions of a population now.

Mr. Davis expects to leave Canada for Richmond about the 12th or 15th of November, to be present at his trial.

The Evansville and Crawfordsville railroad company is engaged in fencing their road along its whole length.

A contract has been made in Chicago, for 1,000 hogs, to be delivered in December, at six and a half cents, live weight.

Among those who died of yellow fever in Texas, were James W. Campbell, his wife, son-in-law and daughter, formerly of Knoxville.

The Empress of France and the Prince Imperial narrowly escaped drowning, recently, while attempting to land in a boat at night, off Biarritz.

Dr. Mary E. Walker is said to have kept her nose tied up all the way across the Atlantic, because some gentleman on board the ship would smoke!

"A cool reply was that of a Major General, who on knocking at a cyprian's door and being asked who was there, answered, "It is I-Sickles."

The New Orleans Times of Sunday contains over two columns of deaths set solid without additional remarks to the simple announcements. The list includes one hundred and fifty-four names.

The Press and Times understands that a difficulty occurred a few days ago on Hurricane creek, between a portion of Captain Rickman's company of militia and some citizens. Nobody was seriously hurt.

The New York election for State officers and Legislature takes place on Tuesday, the 8th of November. Last year it went Republican by 13,000 majority. This year it is given up to the Democrats in advance.

Mrs. Charlotte Walker, the wife of a merchant of Philadelphia, who was recently placed in an asylum by her husband, has now brought suit to gain the custody of her children, whom the father insists upon taking care of.

The exceeding prosperity of Prussia is attributed to the fact that while England has one lawyer to 1,240 inhabitants, and France one to 1,970, Prussia has not one to 12,000. Prussian Kings have not encouraged lawyers.

A scientific writer in the North British Review says that the appearance of new stars and the disappearance of others, together with divers other extraordinary phenomena, are "foreshadows of that impending convulsion to which the system of the world is doomed."

A shooting affray occurred in San Francisco, Saturday, between two families named Coats and Frost. Five of the Coats family were killed and three dangerously wounded. One of the Frost family was killed and three dangerously wounded.

Early Tuesday morning, Elisha Bradley, a well known ward policeman, of Baltimore, was shot and instantly killed by John Bourns. A difficulty in regard to cutting the halyards of a hickory pole erected by the Democrats of Twentieth ward was the cause.

The great event of Tuesday at New Market, England, was the contest for the Cambridgeshire stakes. The race resulted in a dead heat between Lozenge and Wolsey for first position, and the owners of the two divided the stakes.

General Howard has sent an Inspector General to Tennessee, with instructions to inquire into the propriety of withdrawing the Freedmen's Bureau from large portions or the whole of the State. He will visit Memphis, Nashville, Chattanooga and Knoxville.

George Francis Train passed through St. Louis on the 21st instant, on his way to Kansas, just returned from the editorial excursion to the Rocky Mountains, during which he killed twenty-three buffaloes. He is now about to establish woman's rights in Kansas.

General Sherman, according to a Washington telegram in the New York Herald, is entirely opposed to the revolutionary ultras, and in favor of the constitutional principles upheld by the President. He was free to express these opinions a few days ago when in Washington, and all statements to the contrary are pure inventions of the enemy.

Congressman Wilson, of Iowa, Chairman of the Impeachment committee, has written a letter to deny that he has either said he would vote for or vote against impeaching the President. Since the October elections the impeachers manifest more than usual anxiety concerning what they are reported to have said.

General Carleton, late commander in New Mexico, is in Washington to ask an inquiry into his conduct of of affairs there. It appears that some time last session of Congress Senator Conness made a long and bitter speech attacking Carleton and his administration, charging him with fraud and corruption. To this speech the General takes exception, and that the matter may be cleared up to the satisfaction of everybody, he demands a court of inquiry, which will probably be granted.

The Democrats made heavier gains in Indiana at the recent election than has been supposed, from the quiet manner in which the election has passed off. The Vincennes Sun has returns from thirty-five counties, which show that the Democrats have gained 11,610 on the vote of 1866, when the Republican ticket was elected by 14,200 majority. The same average gains in the counties not reported would give the Democrats the State by about 14,000.

The Somerville Falcon of the 19th says: "We deeply regret to announce the death of L. M. Scott, Esq., one of our most talented and influential citizens, and a prominent member of the Somerville bar, which occurred at his residence, near this place, on Friday morning. His funeral took place this morning, and his remains were followed to their last resting place by a large number of our citizens."

The Controller of the Currency has written a letter condemning the practice of National banks receiving from their depositors parcels of unknown value for safe keeping, on the ground that the banks are liable for the safe return of the same, and that thereby they incur a grave risk not warranted by the provisions of the National Currency act; which is likely to exert considerable influence in deterring these institutions from continuing the practice now in vogue among them. The Controller thinks the latter a very hazardous one, and threatens proceedings against banks persevering in it, for the violation of their charters.

A short time since, says the Press and Times, Mr. R. S. Wright, a merchant from Georgia, and Mrs. Whitaker, daughter of Rev. B. Kimbro, of Lincoln county, were married at Mulberry village. On Monday morning last they left Tullahoma on the Fayetteville hack on their return from a bridal tour, both in high spirits and in the enjoyment of good health. Shortly after the hack left Tullahoma, Mrs. Wright was taken suddenly sick, and within fifteen minutes after she was taken, and before they were five miles out, she was a corpse in the hack.

TENNESSEE LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

TUESDAY, October 23, 1867.

Mr. Rodgers offered a resolution recommending General George H. Thomas for commander-in-chief of the armies of the United States upon a vacancy occurring by the promotion of General Grant or otherwise.

Mr. Rodgers introduced a bill to prevent cruelty to domestic animals, making their ill treatment indictable, and imposing a fine of not less than five dollars.

Mr. Nesbit: A bill to charter a bank of discount and deposit at Morristown.

By the same: A bill to amend the charter of the Atlantic, Tennessee and Ohio railroad company, substituting therefor the Mineral Home railroad company.

HOUSE.

Resolution directing the Controller to issue warrants for the mileage and per diem of Messrs. Murphy and Grayson, contestants for a seat in the House of Representatives, from Johnson county (which seat was declared vacant) was adopted.

The following Senate bills were considered and passed third and last reading:

The bill to incorporate the German Association of Nashville, for the purpose of promoting immigration into Tennessee.

The bill to incorporate the Tennessee Colored Banking and Real Estate Association at Memphis.

The bill to incorporate Wand's Patent Carroofing Company.

The Senate then took a recess preparatory to meeting the House in convention, to proceed in the election of a United States Senator.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

By Mr. Bosson: A resolution requiring the Controller to report to the House the amount paid into the State treasury by the railroads of the tax assessed upon passengers for the support of common schools.

By Mr. Bloom: A bill to amend section 4549 of the Code of Tennessee, allowing justices of the peace to charge certain prescribed fees. Referred to Judiciary Committee.

By Mr. Bosson: A resolution requiring the Controller to render to the House an account of his receipts and disbursements from the time of his assuming the functions of office until October 1, 1867. Passed.

House resolution appointing a joint committee to confer with delegates to Congress with reference to the feasibility of getting the Congress of the United States to take some action upon the claims of loyal citizens for losses during the war. Passed.

House resolution instructing members of Congress from Tennessee to endeavor to secure an appropriation from the General Government for clearing the Tennessee river of obstructions. Passed.

Mr. Mynatt moved that James Sparkman, contestant for the seat from Van Buren, Coffee and Grundy counties, be sworn in.

The motion prevailed, and Mr. Sparkman appeared and was sworn in.

HOUSE BILLS ON THIRD READING.

House bill No. 17: To prevent corporations from other States from evading the revenue laws of this State.

The bill declares that it was the intention of the revenue act of 1865 to include life insurance companies in the provisions imposing a tax of $1.250 upon insurance companies.

House bill No. 80: Which is the same in effect as bill No. 17, was adopted in lieu thereof, and passed third reading.

House bill No. 6: To establish a board of commissioners for Sumner county.

The bill provides for the election of three commissioners, who shall exercise all functions now vested in the county court; provides that the first election shall take place in 1870, and that until that time, the commissioners to be appointed by the Governor, and requires all magistrates of all duties devolving upon them as members of the county court. Passed.

At twelve o'clock the Senate and House met in joint session in the hall of the House, for the election of United States Senator. At the last ballot the roll of the Senate was called with the following result:

Brownlow, 12; Stokes, 12.

Brownlow, 51; Stokes, 27; Walker, 1. Total for Brownlow, 63; total for Stokes, 39; whole number of votes cast, 102; necessary to a choice, 52; majority for Brownlow, 28.

The Speaker announced the vote, and declared Wm. G. Brownlow duly elected United States Senator for the term of six years, beginning March 4, 1869.

The House then adjourned.

THE REDUCTION IN COTTON.

A Discouraging Prospect.

From the National Intelligencer, October 22.

The great fall in cotton seriously affects business prospects in the South. The planters will not make their expenses, and those who have rented land will lose money. A large amount of Northern capital invested in cotton planting will be lost. Cotton of the new crop now coming into the market is selling in the principal depots of the South at fourteen or fifteen cents, tax included. The buyer generally pays the tax, so the planter obtains about twelve and a half cents, currency, per pound.

All the expenses attending the cotton culture are double what they were before the war. The twelve and a half cents which the cotton grower receives will be worth to him but six and a quarter cents, compared with the specie price of 1860. It is impossible that cotton can be made another season at this price.

But the price is still further to decline, as we hear from the state of the cotton trade abroad. East India and the Egyptian cotton will supply the Liverpool market at less rates even than the present.

East India cotton is now quoted at Liverpool at seven pence, and it can be afforded with fair profit at fourpence-halfpenny. This will close the Liverpool market against United States cotton for the future. Cotton will cease to be an American staple.

With what extraordinary wisdom then did Mr. Morrill, in his defense of the cotton tax, argue that the cotton culture was the most productive of all products in this country, and the most able of all to bear taxation. Because cotton was at thirty cents at one time, he supposed, perhaps, that it would never decline, even in competition with the product of India. Any well informed cotton trader could have told him better. Besides, the made go ahead, it seems, for the demoralization and destruction of black labor in the South.

It is reported that at Memphis, a great cotton mart, the decline of cotton causes much embarrassment, and that many persons there attribute it to combinations in Liverpool and New York against the Southern States.

But it so happens that the Liverpool and New York cotton trade severely suffers by the decline, and that many of the dealers in the staple are brought by it to the verge of bankruptcy. Large amounts have been lost in New York, as well as in Liverpool, in vain efforts to sustain the price.

The dry goods market in New York and elsewhere feels the cotton decline. The domestic and imported goods are selling below cost. Some cottons bring less prices than they did before the war, and still the tendency is downward.

Cotton factors in the South advise planters not to hold back their crops in the hope of a rise of a cent or two a pound, as there is more likelihood of a further decline than of an advance.

It ought to be the very first business of Congress at the ensuing session to repeal the cotton tax, and provide for refunding that has been collected upon the crop of this season.

THE ELECTIONS IN ALABAMA.

Some Incidents Amusing and Otherwise.

From the Selma Messenger.

The incidents of the late election fares in this city will afford food for long time to come subjects of conversation and discussion — they are at once amusing, ludicrous and alarming.

One negro in the crowd around the courthouse held up an independent ticket (printed on blue paper) and cried out in a loud voice: "No land! no mules! no votes! slavery again!" Then holding up a red ticket, he shouted out: "Forty acres of land! a mule! freedom! votes! the equal of the white man!" And apparently satisfied, he put the red ticket in the ballot box.

A crowd of negroes from the southern part of the county were met at the river by an agent of the Radicals here, who put in their hands the red tickets, and told them they must not let anybody take them away from them, as each ticket was good for a piece of land. The poor devils concluded that it was the fact, that they had better hold on to their tickets, and speedily returned home to learn where these lots were located and enter upon possession.

One fellow, when his ticket was given him, asked what he was to do with it. He was told to put it in the box. "Is dat all?" he queried. "Yes." "Nuthin more, marster?" "No." "Is dat votin?" "Yes." "I thought votin was gettin sumthin." And, disgusted, threw the paper on the ground, trampled it under foot, and went home at least a wiser man.

FRIDAY'S NOON DISPATCHES.

Result of the Election in Virginia.

Radical Majority in the Convention.

Latest Advices From Cuba and Mexico.

Progress of the Revolution in Italy.

RICHMOND, October 25.—Returns received at General Schofield's headquarters show conclusively that the State has voted in favor of the convention. It is also certain that the convention will be Radical by one hundred majority. This city elected the following Radicals after three days contest: Hunnicutt, Underwood, Morrissey and two colored men. The Radicals did not receive fifty white votes in the city, nor did Conservatives receive fifty colored votes. The negroes who voted the Conservative ticket were again chased from the polls by a negro mob. Hunnicutt's son, who was arrested for tearing up Conservative tickets in the hands of negroes at the Monroe ward, and sent to Libby prison, was subsequently released.

The Times' special says that the polls in three of the wards in this city were continued open for the benefit of the registered negroes unable to vote previously. The whites were in the majority last night, but the scale was soon turned in favor of the blacks. At eleven a.m. General Schofield closed the polls, and soon after another booth was opened in the Third Ward, where the blacks massed themselves to the exclusion of all others. The whites were crowded out, and violations and disturbances became frequent among the excited multitude, which required the military frequently to quell.

Hunnicutt, Jr., was fired tearing up Conservative tickets in the hands of colored men, and promptly arrested by the military and lodged in Libby Prison. He was released this evening by General Schofield. At 10:30 the polls were still open, the blacks appearing to be innumerable, and the voting may continue all night.

These elections may be contested, and the Conservatives will issue an appeal to the people of the country, protesting against the manner in which the election has been conducted.

HAVANA, October 24.—Mexican news says it is the intention of Santa Anna to leave Mexico for Havana about the 24th instant.

The election of Juarez is confirmed. The reforms proposed by the Convention are probably defeated. A New York correspondence of the 19th says that the Captain General was still chary of allowing telegraph news to be circulated.

A message containing the news of Garibaldi's victories in Italy was published in one of the papers after the Captain General had suppressed it, and a searching inquiry was then going on for the offending operator who had permitted it to get abroad.

The Times' Havana correspondence says that Jose Maria La Cernzia, one of Mejia's ministers, who has been executed, embalmed and buried by the newspapers, is at present alive and in Havana.

The appointment of the new captain general, Lersundia, gives general satisfaction.

LONDON, October 24.—Dispatches from Florence say it was known in that city early last night that General Garibaldi had traversed Italy and succeeded in reaching Rolbe, in the province of Urbino, that his arrival there was discovered, and he was forbidden by the Italian authorities from proceeding any further. Since then nothing has been made public as to his movements or whereabouts.

The Times of to-day has a strong editorial on French intervention. It stigmatises the course of France as cruel to Italy and perilous to Europe, and declares that its effect will be transient, as the Garibaldians must rise again, and a new enterprise against Rome is inevitable.

The Paris troops which were sent to embark on the naval expedition for the relief of Rome, are now encamped around Toulon.

NEW YORK, October 25—12 m.—Gold opened at 142¾ and declined to 142⅝ at eleven o'clock, and remains at 142⅝. Coupons demand moderate, prices firm. Quotations nominally unchanged. Exchange, 109@109¼.

ALABAMA ITEMS.

A. W. Jones, Esq., a delegate elect to the Alabama State convention was hung near Evergreen, Conecuh county, on Saturday night, by a number of unknown men.

Mr. John Templeton opened the Selma theater last Monday night, with a good company and a good house. He intends to produce the "Black Crook" during the season.

On Saturday the cotton market in Selma was very active, and over three hundred bales were sold, to fill New York orders. Sales at fifteen cents.

Reverend Timothy J. Russell, of Tallapoosa, one of the delegates elected to the Alabama convention, from Chambers and Tallapoosa, died at his residence, in Tallapoosa county, on last Tuesday.

The Huntsville Advocate says that the business in bankruptcy is increasing so fast in the sixth district, that the register will hereafter require that schedules must be prepared by attorneys, with copies of the same, at the time of filing petition. His docket now numbers ninety-seven.

John Forsyth, of Mobile, is the representative of the firm of Herschel V. Johnson & Co., who propose to recover for those who have paid the cotton tax, the whole amount of tax they have paid, because of the unconstitutionality of the law.

The Mobile Times refers to the next Convention in Alabama as a "forthcoming tragedy." It gives also the following cheerful view of the probable results of the labors of the body: "No sane man can doubt that the Constitution soon to be adopted for this State, will be a monstrous anomaly, blending the wildest notions of demagogism with the base vengeance of beings driven to mad fury by the universal contempt they inspire."

Captain "Bob" Lincoln.

A Chicago correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette, says that a statement is going the rounds of the press that Captain Robt. T. Lincoln, had recently been admitted to the Chicago bar. The fact is, that young Lincoln was admitted to the bar more than a year since, and is now master of a handsome practice. He was about two weeks since, admitted to practice in the Supreme Court of the United States, a position rarely reached by one so young, he being scarcely twenty-five. In this connection it may not be improper to say, in order to correct many impressions in regard to Captain Lincoln, that he is one of the most promising young men in the West. He is an intelligent, industrious, quiet, unassuming, courteous gentleman, and enjoys in an eminent degree the personal esteem of the people of Chicago. Resembling his honored father in the modesty of his demeanor, simplicity of his character, generosity of his heart and stubbornness of his principles, it is impossible not to respect and honor him. The conduct of his mother is as deep a mystery to him as to all of her friends, and the only theory he can suggest in her defense is that she is insane.

Notice to the Public.

IN retiring from the Drug business in this city we would give notice that we have sold our entire Stock, together with the Fixtures, Lease, etc., of the well known stand, No. 33 Main street, to Dr. J. B. WAGNER & CO., to whom we were formerly salesmen; and after returning our heartfelt thanks to our numerous patrons and friends who have so liberally favored us during our continuation of business, we solicit for our successors a continuance of the same. As to the character and qualifications of our worthy successors in the Drug trade, their reputation is too well and favorably known in this city and throughout the country generally for us to allude to anything we might here state to add thereto. Suffice it to say, they are of long and tried experience in this branch of business, and therefore need cordially recommend a continuance of our patrons with this house.

JOHN A. NIPGEN.

The unsettled business of NIPGEN & SCHARIET and JOHN A. NIPGEN will be settled by either of the old partners at the old stand.

NIPGEN & SCHARIET.

To the Public.

In having made the above purchase and resumed business at the old and well known stand, No. 33 Main street, who e we have so often and for so many long years of unbroken and advantageous intercourse with our friends and patrons; and at a time of unforseen providential circumstances have shaken us around to our former place of business, it is with feelings of earnest gratitude that we again prepared to offer to our former friends and the public generally a large, and well selected stock of Drugs, Medicines, etc., etc., and, indeed, everything usually kept in a first class and well conducted Drug Store, to which we are now adding, and will continue to add constantly, from the most staple and choice articles the markets can afford. And as we shall import from first hands ourselves, and from first class houses, we feel confident that we can make another season at this place

But the price is still further to decline, as we hear from the state of the cotton trade abroad. East India and the Egyptian cotton will supply the Liverpool market at less rates even than the present.

East India cotton is now quoted at Liverpool at seven pence, and it can be afforded with fair profit at fourpence-halfpenny. This will close the Liverpool market against United States cotton for the future. Cotton will cease to be an American staple.

With what extraordinary wisdom then did Mr. Morrill, in his defense of the cotton tax, argue that the cotton culture was the most productive of all products in this country, and the most able of all to bear taxation. Because cotton was at thirty cents at one time, he supposed, perhaps, that it would never decline, even in competition with the product of India. Any well informed cotton trader could have told him better. Besides, the made go ahead, it seems, for the demoralization and destruction of black labor in the South.

It is reported that at Memphis, a great cotton mart, the decline of cotton causes much embarrassment, and that many persons there attribute it to combinations in Liverpool and New York against the Southern States.

But it so happens that the Liverpool and New York cotton trade severely suffers by the decline, and that many of the dealers in the staple are brought by it to the verge of bankruptcy. Large amounts have been lost in New York, as well as in Liverpool, in vain efforts to sustain the price.

The dry goods market in New York and elsewhere feels the cotton decline. The domestic and imported goods are selling below cost. Some cottons bring less prices than they did before the war, and still the tendency is downward.

Cotton factors in the South advise planters not to hold back their crops in the hope of a rise of a cent or two a pound, as there is more likelihood of a further decline than of an advance.

It ought to be the very first business of Congress at the ensuing session to repeal the cotton tax, and provide for refunding that has been collected upon the crop of this season.

THE ELECTIONS IN ALABAMA.

Some Incidents Amusing and Otherwise.

The incidents of the late election fares in this city will afford food for long time to come subjects of conversation and discussion — they are at once amusing, ludicrous and alarming.

One negro in the crowd around the courthouse held up an independent ticket (printed on blue paper) and cried out in a loud voice: "No land! no mules! no votes! slavery again!" Then holding up a red ticket, he shouted out: "Forty acres of land! a mule! freedom! votes! the equal of the white man!" And apparently satisfied, he put the red ticket in the ballot box.

A crowd of negroes from the southern part of the county were met at the river by an agent of the Radicals here, who put in their hands the red tickets, and told them they must not let anybody take them away from them, as each ticket was good for a piece of land. The poor devils concluded that it was the fact, that they had better hold on to their tickets, and speedily returned home to learn where these lots were located and enter upon possession.

One fellow, when his ticket was given him, asked what he was to do with it. He was told to put it in the box. "Is dat all?" he queried. "Yes." "Nuthin more, marster?" "No." "Is dat votin?" "Yes." "I thought votin was gettin sumthin." And, disgusted, threw the paper on the ground, trampled it under foot, and went home at least a wiser man.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR TAX COLLECTOR—We are authorized to announce T. J. BOWEN as a candidate for re-election to the office of City Tax Collector, at the ensuing election in January next. oct26

SATURDAY, : : : : : OCTOBER 26, 1867

THE Democracy of Ohio are rejoicing with exceeding great joy over the result of the recent elections—a result which seems to have carried gladness to the hearts of the people. The Radicals are striving to keep a stiff upper lip, and to console themselves with that kind of contemptuous indifference which the drowning philosopher exhibited when he told NOAH to go to thunder with his old ark, as there wasn't going to be much of a shower any way. Their efforts to derive consolation reminds us of the ludicrous attempts of the innocent, warm hearted Mr. TOOTS to convince DOMBEY that the tearing of his trousers, like every thing else, was of "no consequence." It is evident that they feel like holding funeral wakes over the dead body, and the decaying prospects of Radicalism. The lucubrations of their editors are lugubrious, funereal and dreary. Radicalism is evidently not itself in Ohio; it is Radicalism in mourning weeds and in galloping consumption. Verily "the ice on the Neva is breaking up." This fanatical party, like the surface of a frozen river, is cracking to pieces, as the grand swell of the patriotic and indignant mass comes rushing down from all quarters like the torrents of a thousand mountain streams. The popular tide has become a resistless Mississippi in volume, and it will carry the country from the foul clutches of Radicalism, and sweep along the dead, bloated and repulsive body of many a detested poacher upon Constitutional liberty and the rights of the people. The effects of this deluge have filled the Radicals with terror. They behold their dikes and dams giving way, and the low grounds and works of despotism overflowing. We are not, therefore, surprised at the rejoicing of our friends in Ohio. They have achieved the grandest victory in the annals of political triumphs.

Now that the Democrats have a decided majority on joint ballot in the Legislature, the Senatorial election begins to stir public opinion. Judge THURMAN (late candidate for Governor), VALLANDIGHAM, PENDLETON and others are suggested as candidates. We care not who may be elected, but we must say that the opposition made to VALLANDIGHAM by the expediency croaker of this city is as shameful as it is ungrateful. These very wise, cautious, prudent, expediency fellows oppose VALLANDIGHAM because he is opposed to the Radicals. They want some OILY GAMMON schemer who talked with bated breath and in honeyed accents about the despots when they were trampling upon the constitution and rioting over the liberties of the people. Out upon such craven cowardice. The party that in the hour of triumph requites the services of its ablest champions with ingratitude, is unworthy of success. When darkness, gloom, and despair overshadowed the nation, C. L. VALLANDIGHAM was the recipient of contumely, insult, hatred and execration, and now in the hour of victory he should be the cherished idol of his party—lifted to the highest positions of honor. He has been fighting for six years for the very principles that triumphed in the recent election. He has endured more persecution, scorn and obloquy for constitutional liberty than any man in America. He has stood by great principles with a faith that was sublime—with that kind of reliance which inspired the Christians of the middle ages when they hugged to their bleeding bosoms the Holy Cross. He bared his bosom to the storm, and if such men as he are to be ignored or ostracised because their election will be obnoxious to the enemy, then there is no incentive for fidelity to principle. Such a "policy" will make men huckstering demagogues and truckling, faithless sentinels. "The stone which the builders rejected" should "become the head of the corner." Mr. VALLANDIGHAM having remained steadfast and unfaltering, he is deserving of reward. He has pluck, will, and iron nerve—the very man to grapple with Radicalism, and no Southern man can surely object to seeing him in the United States Senate, where he will war upon the enemies of the Constitution, labor to obliterate the bloody line that divides the North and South, and to cement an estranged people together in the indissoluble bonds of fraternal love and harmony.

Senator Rogers (Radical), on Thursday, offered a resolution in the Tennessee Legislature in favor of paying the bonds with greenbacks.

This announcement has created quite a sensation. The theory is not new; it formed one of the most important pillars of the platform on which the noble effort in Ohio was made, which culminated in a majority in each house of the Legislature, and had it not been for spurious negro votes, would have elected the gallant THURMAN over his Radical competitor. Even the renowned BEN. BUTLER, of specie notoriety, believes that the Five-twenties should be paid in greenbacks. In fact he exhausts the argument. He shows that if it had been intended to pay them in the precious metals, the act authorizing them would have so stipulated, as with the Ten-forties, and as it set forth that the coupons were to be paid in gold. The Ten-forties only draw five per cent., while the Five-twenties were made to draw six per cent. This conclusively shows that it was not expected to redeem the latter with specie, else it would have been specified. It is not much of a reason, that BUTLER has adopted the policy, for if anything could damage a good cause it would be his supporting it. He argues that "if these bonds are payable in gold, why, now that it is in the option of the Government to redeem a large number of them, are they offered in the market for 112 in currency, while gold brings 143 or more." This is a stumper. If anyone believed that these bonds were to be redeemed in gold, would he be willing to put his bonds in markets so much below the gold rates? The fact is transparent on its face, and did not need the logic of the specie-loving BUTLER to impress it upon the Treasury, which MCCULLOCH incubates like a cackling goose, and with about as many ideas. The sooner he receives his walking papers the better it will be for the country, and the sooner these gold-bearing interest bonds will be absorbed, and the revenue be augmented by restoring that much withdrawn capital, to be subject to taxation. Mr. ROGERS deserves well for what he has done, and will deserve better if he can get his resolution through the Radical Legislature.

Boyd & Co., Solicitors of Patents, 208 Pine street, St. Louis, Missouri, officially report to the AVALANCHE, the following patents granted Tennessee, Arkansas, Louisiana and Georgia inventors, for the week ending, 15th October, 1867: Tennessee—P. Kelley, Nashville, Spark Arrester; H. Zellner, Columbia, Cotton Press and Feeder. Arkansas—C. A. Harris, Austin, Garden Plow Cultivator. Louisiana—C. W. Warley, New Orleans, Cotton Bale Tie. Georgia—W. Rutherford, Athens, Compound Protractor; A. Pearsall, Atlanta, Spark Arrester.

Carpenters, painters and upholsterers are busily engaged preparing the Capitol for the approaching session of Congress.

A man named Andrew Weatherox, supposed to have been murdered near Pittsburg, in 1856, has turned up in that place.

A few days since a negro woman buried her own child in Huntsville, Alabama, while it was yet alive. When discovered, it was still living.

Several New York financial men are in Washington urging Mr. McCulloch's removal, and the appointment of Mr. Legrand Lockwood, a New York banker.

The New York Mail, says: "Hon. Mrs. S. S. COX, of Ohio, has just come in possession of a princely fortune, by the death of her father, Alvin Buckingham, Esq."

The bill of Thomas W. Knox, on his return from his round-the-world voyage, for the New York Herald, was $6,000 in gold, which that journal promptly paid. As only ten of his letters were printed, they cost the Herald $600 each in gold.

The Freedmen's Bureau in North Carolina has assumed a new role. It has become an adjunct to Shanks' Committee of Investigation into the treatment of Union prisoners by the "rebels," and has issued a circular calling for information.

In Hamburg, Pennsylvania, on the 24th a girl eighteen years of age, while returning home at an early hour, was struck by some unknown person and knocked insensible, and when found was terribly lacerated and outraged.

The official returns of Colorado show a large increase in the popular vote, it being 9,349 against 6,996 last year. The Republican majority is 876, the vote being: Republican, 5,953; Democratic, 4,238, which is a gain of 768 over last year.

It is said that the much talked of dinner to Prince Napoleon, for which Mrs. Lincoln demanded pay from the Interior Department, was settled for by the sale of manure deposited by Government mules on the grounds near the White House.

That is a hit in one of the comic papers, in which Ben. Butler is represented as a manager before the footlights, apologizing to the public, and saying that, "Owing to a break in the machinery, the farce of 'Impeachment' is unavoidably postponed."

The National Democratic Resident Committee consisting of Randall, of Pennsylvania; Harrington, of Indiana, and others will be in Washington on November 1, when important matters connected with the Presidential campaign will be considered.

The Vicksburg Times of the 23d says: "Again we are constrained to chronicle an increase in yellow fever. The march of the destroyer, though not rapid, is yet steady and progressive, and the number of new cases yesterday was sufficient to gratify the most hungry undertaker extant."

A special from Washington says: Secretary McCulloch to-day denies that he has any intention of writing a letter supporting the policy of President Johnson. He declares his financial and political views are well understood throughout the country; therefore no necessity exists for his writing such a letter at the present time.

A Mr. Beardsley, of Norwalk, Ohio, has just recovered ten thousand dollars damages in the United States Circuit Court, from Mr. Tappan, proprietor of a "mercantile agency," in New York, for slander, the slander consisting in the reports made to the customers of the agency, in the usual course of business, as to the commercial standing of Mr. Beardsley.

The recent negro riots in Baltimore have developed the fact that there are in Washington 1200 armed and drilled negroes. They are not attached to the Government and are not responsible to any one for their conduct. It is intimated they are held in readiness to render assistance to Congress if it should be demanded.

The correspondence between General Grant, General Thomas, Governor Brownlow, and the Mayor of Nashville, regarding the late municipal election in that city, will be published in New York to-day. It will show that General Thomas acted under instructions from General Grant. General Grant feels it his duty to co-operate with the State Executive in securing not only the public peace, but the enforcement of the laws of the State, which enfranchised its colored citizens.

A Courier special of the 24th says: The President has been charged with intending to disregard the civil tenure law by not sending his reasons to the Senate for removing Secretary Stanton. Mr. Johnson holds that the law in question is unconstitutional, and there is no way of testing it unless he takes the initiative, there being but two parties to the case, the President and Stanton, one or the other of whom would have to do the act which would carry it to the courts.

The Freedmen's Bureau will expire next July by limitation. It is understood that General Howard will not recommend its continuance beyond that time in case the reconstruction of the South should be accomplished. In that event he will recommend a comprehensive system of education for the colored youth South, by the establishment of an extensive normal school at Washington City, for the education of colored teachers and the organization of normal schools, for the same object in the Southern States.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune says: "The man who held the position of gardener at the White House during a portion of the late President Lincoln's administration, and who now keeps a rum-mill in this city, has been trying lately to sell to newspaper correspondents here, letters which he asserts to have been written to him by Mrs. Lincoln, in which she requests him to commit forgery and perjury for the purpose of defrauding the Government. He also promises, for a consideration, to give a full history of the secrets of Mrs. Lincoln's domestic affairs, upon which he claims to be well posted."

A Nashville dispatch of the 20th, says of the races: "The Cumberland stake for three year olds, mile heats, play or pay, $50 entrance, was won to-day by Frank Bissick's Patrician. The first heat was won by Turner and Johnson's Magazine; the others that ran were Craig, Cockrill's Nattie, and Sandy Barnes, the latter running round each heat. Patrician ran fourth on the first heat. Time—1:49½, 1:49, 1:49¼. For second race, club purse, $400, there was but one entry, Muggins, who galloped over the course. The third race, mile heats, was won by Smith's ch. c. by Hiawatha, four years old, beating Duett and Commodore. Time—1:53½ and 1:50¼.

WASHINGTON, October 25.

The following dispatch was received at the Interior Department:

MEDICINE CREEK LODGE, October 21.

A treaty of peace has been made with the Comanches and the Kaws, and prospects are good for a treaty with the Cerophoes and Arapahoes.

A. S. H. WHITE.

Returns of the Philadelphia banks to the Controller of Currency show that they have a reserve of $16,000,000, being $800,000 in excess of the amount required by law.

The correspondence between Admiral Farragut and Minister Yeaman at Copenhagen has been received. The former thanks the latter for his attendance, and the latter congratulates the Government and the people of the United States for the very favorable impression which has been made in Northern Europe by Farragut's cruise in the Baltic and adjacent waters. Our naval service has been illustrated, and our political institutions honored. Socially and politically Americans have acquired increased consideration.

NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, October 25.

Fever interments for the twenty-four hours ending at six o'clock this morning, seventeen.

The Hamburg steamer Bavaria, arrived with over three hundred passengers, the first experimental trip looking to the establishment of a permanent line between New Orleans and Hamburg.

To-day's Crescent states that the towns of Brazos, Santiago, and Brownsville, Texas, the city of Matamoras and the village of Bagdad, Mexico, were extensively damaged by the same storm which recently devastated Galveston.

The steamer Pisano left Brazos for this port on the 19th ultimo, and has not since been heard from. It is considered certain that she went down with all on board.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, October 25.

Seven thousand five hundred naturalizations have taken place lately, under the auspices of the Democratic committee, and five hundred under those of the Republican committee.

The Commercial Advertiser says the failure of Robert L. Taylor, shipping merchant, resulted from protracted stringency in discounts; also, indorsement of H. H. Rubbell, who failed at the same time. Both parties have made assignments. The liabilities of Taylor are $100,000. Considerable surprise is felt at Taylor having made an assignments, as his reputed wealth largely exceeds his reported liabilities.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, October 25.

Late dispatches from Rome state that the party of action attempted an insurrection on Tuesday. A mine was placed under the barracks of the papal zouaves, and at a given signal was fired. The attempt was a signal failure, not a single life being lost, though many were injured, and the building shattered. The outbreak was quickly suppressed, and the city soon became quiet.

Intelligence from China states that a great battle was fought between the rebels and the Tartar force. The Imperialists were defeated. The affair took place within thirty miles of Pekin, and that city was in danger of falling into the hands of the rebels.

Additional advices from Rome show that the Garibaldians have not all left Papal Territory, but represent that the Pontifical troops have had several successful encounters with the remnants.

FLORENCE, October 25.

Garibaldi seems to have pushed through the country, notwithstanding the prohibition of the Italian Government. At last accounts he was at Ricita, a town near the Papal frontier, and only forty-two miles from Rome.

PARIS, October 25.

The reception of the Emperor of Austria is most cordial and gratifying. His visit is most popular with Parisians, and wherever he appears is enthusiastically received by the people. A profound feeling of sympathy for his unfortunate brother heightens their respect.

One Thing is Certain

THAT however widely great men may differ, there is a large majority of doctors, lawyers and divines throughout the South who pronounce that Dr. Williams' Pulmonic Balsam of Wild Cherry and Wood Naptha is the only certain cure for Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Sore Throats, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of strength, Whooping Cough, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Difficult Breathing, and all diseases of the Chest and Lungs; and a certain and sure cure for Consumption in its early stages. That it cures all of the above enumerated diseases is a fact beyond controversy, as there are thousands of living witnesses to testify to the fact, why, who have been cured by the great discovery. Hear what some of our most eminent physicians of the South say. The distinguished Dr. Booth, of Macon, Ga., says, that "In every case he has found this preparation a safe and prompt remedy for all Pulmonary affections, and takes pleasure in recommending it as a reliable anodyne, expectorant, etc."

Dr. Tennant, of Sparta, Ga., a physician of deservedly high reputation as an able and experienced practitioner of medicine, tenders and expresses the same opinion, and recommends it extensively in his practice.

Dr. F. N. Cohen, of Charleston, S. C., a gentleman of well known reputation, and a wholesale dealer and importer of drugs and medicines, recommends it to the highest terms and uses it, exclusive of all other remedies, in his family, with the most satisfactory results.

And we might add even thousands of certificates of like recommendations of the medicine, all of which would only consume time in reading for our purpose, as this great medicine is too well known throughout the south, where it has been in use for the last twenty-two years, to need any further recommendation than this—that ALL who have used it once are not satisfied to be without it; and so general has been the demand, that it has been only recently that we have been able to make such arrangements in this section as will enable us to supply the constant demands which we are daily in receipt of from leading druggist, and other dealers throughout the South.

Having established an agency in this city, the above wholesale drug house of J. B. Wasson & Co., of this city, we are now prepared to fill all orders within the limit of the supply on hand, (to the trade only) and must be addressed to J. B. WASSON & CO., Wholesale Druggists, Memphis, Tenn.

THE EMINENT AND DISTINGUISHED DOCTOR Sir James Clark, Physician to Queen Victoria, and most learned and distinguished man of this age, in treating on Consumption, says: That Pulmonary Consumption can be cured, as much as we longer of a bone set, and by the same process, on pathological anatomy, at this present time, agree that consumption can be cured, if proper remedies are used in time; and testimony the most convincing, clearly proves that this disease must not be trifled with by using all kinds of patent medicines and quack nostrums of which there only ends certain cure now in use throughout the South is known as "Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry and Wood Naptha," which has stood the test of more than twenty years' trial, during which time it has given the most convincing proof of its great efficacy in having arrested the most subtle and treacherous disease with hundreds, who are living witnesses to do testify to the truth of what we here state. And to the hundreds who are suffering with any Pulmonary disease, no matter of how long standing, we ask you to try this medicine and be convinced for yourself.

Sold by all responsible druggists throughout the South. Dealers can be supplied at J. B. Wasson & Co.'s wholesale drug house, Memphis, Tenn., to whom all orders must be addressed. oct23

A Card.

THE conduct of the Gas Company toward me at the Crystal Palace, has been so outrageous that I deem it proper to make a statement of the same that the many customers of the establishment may know the reason gas is not lighted. GALLAWAY, REID & CLUBERT.

MORTUARY REPORT.—There were five interments from yellow fever for the twenty-four hours ending at five o'clock p m., October 25.

W. E. ROGERS, M. D.,
Secy Board of Health.

EXPLOSION OF A LAMP.—On Thursday evening a coal oil lamp exploded in the Bellman block, on Poplar street, and at one time a disastrous fire was imminent. By timely presence of mind the point of danger was passed.

ATTEMPT AT RAPE.—A negro, calling himself James Patterson, was arrested by officer Lashley, charged with attempting to commit an outrage on a white woman. He was locked up for examination. A gold watch found on him is thought to have been surreptitiously obtained.

COUNTERFEITER.—A rather genteel looking man, named C. H. Reilly, was arrested night before last for doing a lively business in disposing of sundry spurious coins for gold, among the colored population. He had a pocket full of the same. His offer to divide with the policeman arresting him was respectfully declined.

AN INQUEST, held on the body of Henry Frick, who died suddenly, was ordered by the Health officer, Dr. W. E. Rogers, at No. 304 Shelby street. The undertaker would not take charge of the body without a certificate from the attending physician, who not being conveniently found, application was made to Dr. W. E. Rogers. The verdict was died of congestion of the brain.

CHARGE OF SWINDLING.—A negro woman, named Polly Scott went into a store, opposite the Overton of Sergeant Bell, and purchased a bill of goods yesterday. On receiving the change Polly found herself minus thirteen dollars, and immediately repaired to Esquire Miller, who issued a warrant to bring the party before him this morning to answer the charge.

WEATHER.—Yesterday was dull, chill and gloomy, with a gentle but cold rain throughout the day. Shawls and overcoats were almost indispensable to those compelled to face the weather. They were most comfortable who could remain within doors, and have the genial warmth of a good fire to dispel the damp atmosphere. Frost will not be long in making its appearance now.

Emmons & Son, No. 16 Jefferson street, and No. 393 Main street, have received the Turf, Field and Farm, Metropolitan Record, Irish American, Irish People, Freeman's Journal, Clipper, Criminal Reporter, Irish Citizen, (John) Mitchell, Flag of Ireland, Old Guard, La Rue Tea Tor November, Ledger, Chimney Corner, Literary Album, Boston Pilot, LaCrosse Democrat, and also a lot of writing paper, envelope, blanks, books of all kinds, and daily papers from everywhere.

NEW MEMPHIS THEATER.—The exceedingly untoward weather last Saturday forbade a large house at Miss Emilie Melville's benefit, but the audience was delighted with the performance, and the fair beneficiaire was presented with the most magnificent of bouquets. Her Joan of Pucelle and her Pocahontas won the most enthusiastic plaudits. This evening she will appear as Capitola, in the popular drama of the Hidden Hand. The songs of Miss Melville are a special attraction of the concert. They set off her graceful acting with a refinement of finish not be excelled.

DEATH OF GEORGE H. SCHNEIDER, Esq.—The death of this old and highly esteemed citizen, on Thursday, took his numerous friends by surprise. Many of them had not even heard of his illness. He has joined the great majority to whom we must all go in eternal rest, but he leaves behind a good name, entitled to be remembered with respect. He had amassed a large fortune, which he enjoyed with the general feeling of one who deemed the benefits of this world as the preparatory for the life everlasting, where the worthy are blessed with unbroken rest and happiness.

J. B. WASSON & CO.—We call attention to the advertisement, in another column, of the mammoth drug warerooms of J. B. Wasson & Co., No. 294 Main street, successors to Nipper & Rankin and of John A. Shea & Co. The present firm are greatly increasing the immense stock of drugs, medicines, paints, oils, dye stuffs, pomades, perfumeries, etc., and endless variety of fancy toilet articles. Messrs. H. C. Farnsworth, John C. Heakirt, Richard Brewster, James Boon, George Gouriay, and others well known as gentlemen of high social standing and business capacity, are connected with this house. We doubt not Messrs. J. B. Wasson & Co. will make this one of the most popular drug houses in the Southwest.

U. J. BROOKS.—The decease of this citizen filled his many friends with sincere regret. With all the generous impulses of a true man, he was esteemed by all who knew him. He was not without his faults, but who is? De mortuis nil nisi bonum. Called home in the very meridian of manhood, he leaves a void in the circle of friendship not easily filled. There are those who knew him when he was a young clerk on Front row, with every promise of a life of usefulness and prosperity. He chose another pursuit, but his heart remained unchanged, and best with the generous impulses that rivet strong and lasting friendships. His remains were conveyed to their last sad resting place yesterday afternoon, attended by numerous friends.

Rd. Worsham, at 22½ Jefferson street, Avalanche Building, is prepared by last night's mail, the Chimney Corner, Literary Album, Scientific American, Metropolitan Record, Sporting Times, Police News, New York Clipper, Police Gazette, Waverly Magazine, Irish Citizen, Irish Tribune, Irish Nation, Boston Pilot, Freeman's Journal, Field, Turf and Farm, Banner of Light, Phunny Fellow, New York Ledger, Harper's Bazaar, Harper's Monthly, Harper's Weekly, Atlantic Monthly, for November; Journal, Every Saturday, weekly and monthly part. Call upon the handsome young Colonel and select from its well filled counters whatever you may fancy in the matter of your taste. Something new and interesting always to be obtained from Rd., when not to be had elsewhere.

THE "MACKERELS."—The following is that part of Mayor Lodland's message, referring to the unprotected condition of the canine who have so long enjoyed the sobriquet of "mackerels":

I regret that I am called upon to add to creating and maintaining a house of refuge for that portion of our population known as "mackerels." With $10,000 from the State, $10,000 from the county and $50,000 from the city, provision can be made for those $70,000 from the city, provision can be made for those who are destitute of this world's goods. Thank and beyond the two thousand of these boys and girls in this city, and it is our bounden duty to make some effort in their behalf. If we "the fathers" for this purpose is started on the proper basis—say something like that at Louisville, to which State, county and city have each contributed, and each appointed a portion of the managers—I will at once invite the assistance of all good citizens.

It must be apparent to every one, even a casual observer, that the parties designated as "mackerels" are not a very promising class, neglected and endangering as they do a precarious living. They are early initiated in the mysteries of vice, and have no incentive presented to them to lead a different life. Vagabondage seems to be their heritage; and they grow older only to be more hardened in the ways that infallibly are the forerunners of crime. It is remarkable that some provision has not heretofore been made for these little wanderers in our midst. With proper care they may be taught the ways of industry and frugality, known to all disreputable mode of life they had been leading, and converted into law-abiding, law-respecting citizens. It will be no easy thing to wrench the brand from the burning, and we trust the Committee will report in favor of the recommendation of the Mayor, or take such action as will have the promise of promptly accomplishing the object.

A HOLLY SPRINGS AUCTIONEER AND GENERAL GUY.—Holly Springs, Mississippi, possesses an auctioneer named Lee Roberts, who is quite a droll character in his way. He carries an empty sleeve, having lost an arm in the memorable seige of Atlanta. Roberts is a strong Conservative, of course, but as soon as he had become a citizen of the town, sailed to pay his respects. Introducing himself he said: "General, my name is Lee Roberts—Captain Roberts. I'm the principal auctioneer of this town, and thinking probably you may have some condemned lot of horses, old army wagons, or some kind of something else, to sell at auction, I thought I'd call to have the job." The General, seeing that he had an odd genius to deal with, commenced questioning him. "Captain Roberts, I see you have lost an arm; how's that?" "Your folks shot it off at Atlanta," promptly responded Roberts. "At Atlanta, sir!" replied the General, "I'd never yet have been told that a one-armed auctioneer has been cursing Gill (the Radical recently shown up in the AVALANCHE) about the streets; are you the man?" "I believe I am, sir," replied the Captain, with a bow. "And I suppose," continued the General, looking out of the corner of his eyes, "that you're selling the nearly." Not at all taken aback, Roberts straightened up, and looking the General straight in the face, said: "Well, General, I have no residence so I don't need any room for it; but (a polite bow) if ever you get to be a d—d mean as this fellow, Gill, I'll give you the best I've got in the shop." The General fairly "roared" when Roberts finished, and replied: "Well, Captain, if I have any occasion for an auctioneer's services, you shall certainly have a showing. Good day."

BEER JERKERS AND KENO.—The multiplication of [illegible] where the games of "keno" is played, nightly, has induced the Mayor to call the attention of the Board of Aldermen to the subject, with the view of sending application to the Legislature for power to close them. Not being familiar with either of these modes of amusement, we cannot say the extent to which they have been multiplied. The calling out of the numbers of "keno" before the early hours to which boys, we think they probably pay a stipulated license to the Metropolitans. As for the "beer-jerkers," they are not so extensively supported as they were at least, the places of resort visible in passing along the streets, do not appear to be so numerous. The Mayor thus expostates on the expediency of shutting the pulsaders:

We should ask for such authority as will enable us to break up the "beer-jerkers' saloons" and the "keno" hells. Four-fifths of the murders perpetrated since the war can be traced directly to the former, and the ruin of hundreds of our young men is chargeable to the latter. There are in this city many "keno" rooms; some are fitted up in splendid style, with elegant carpets, sofas, tables, chairs and mirrors, and with sideboards groaning under the weight of wines, liquors and cigars, and everything else calculated to invite and amuse the unwary, the thoughtless and the vicious. Others are furnished in less splendor; but are equally pernicious and corrupting. If the names were published of those who visit these hells, the community would be appalled at the list, both as to the number and character of the patrons. It would embrace names from almost every profession, trade and occupation in our city. The poor drayman or day laborer here loses in an hour what he has worked and toiled hard all day to gain.

I regard these saloons and keno rooms as the most dangerous and corrupting vices that ever cursed this city; and if the municipal government cannot be clothed with authority to close them, and stop their ruinous practices and influences, we had as well give up the control of the city to the keno banks and beer-jerkers, so far as morality is concerned. From the law as now administered by the courts, we get no relief.

GRAND PRESENTATION.

Interesting and Imposing Ceremonies.

The members of the late U. H. B. B. S. assembled last evening at the residence of Mr. Martin Cohen, who was its last President. The object that brought them together was an agreeable social reunion, and a determination to avail themselves of the occasion to present to their late President a testimonial of their appreciation of him as a friend and brother, and a most attentive and efficient officer. The pleasing duty of making the presentation—a superb gold-headed cane—devolved upon August Glazburger, Esq., who proceeded to address Mr. Cohen in the following language:

BROTHER COHEN: After the dissolution of the late United Hebrew Brethren Benefical Society, its members went into special meeting, Brother Skaller in the chair, and passed the following resolutions, in appreciation of your faithful services:

HALL OF THE U. H. B. B. S.

At a special meeting held by the members of the late U. H. B. B. S., after the dissolution of said society, it was unanimously

Resolved, That the thanks of the members of the late U. H. B. B. S. are unanimously due to its last president and brother, Martin Cohen, Esq., for his meritorious services, rendered as president for the last two terms, and also as a member of this society, in which he filled every office with zeal and energy, and to the satisfaction of said society.

Resolved, That in appreciation of said services rendered, and to express the gratitude and love of the members of the late U. H. B. B. S., that a gold headed cane be procured and presented to our late Brother President, with the following inscription: "U. H. B. B. S. To its last President, Martin Cohen, Esq., Memphis, October 20, 1867."

Resolved, That we express our sincere wishes for the welfare of our brother, Mr. Cohen, that his useful life may be long spared to this community, to which he is a fit ornament.

Resolved, That these resolutins be published in the city papers, and a copy, with the testimonial, be presented to M. Cohen, Esq.

M. SKALLER,
A. GINSBURGER,
T. M. GANS,
T. S. HEILBORN,
Committee.

MEMPHIS, October 20, 1867.

Brother Cohen, there are many duties devolved on a man, which he is commissioned to fulfill toward his fellow-men and brethren; and one of the most pleasant of such duties has devolved upon me, in being selected to address you, Brother Cohen, by the committee whose names I have read.

The late U. H. B. B. S., after an existence of over four years, is no more; but, thank God, nearly all its members, and especially its best supporters, are alive and here assembled. Let us praise and thank God, the Almighty Ruler of the Universe, for this and the manifold blessings bestowed upon us—and especially in this present time, when a cloud of sickness and the hand of the Almighty lays heavily, and overshadows our city—we are all able to assemble here and bestow honor on one to whom really honor is due.

Brother Cohen, since the existence of this Society, you have been one of its truest members. At no time have you neglected your duty to the corner stone of this Society—always ready to nurse a sick brother, and make his heart glad with your presence, by ministering to his wants. Every office of honor and trust to which you were chosen, you lent your aide to, both as a scholar and gentleman, and clothed it with zeal and energy. At times, when this Society was nearly shattered on manhood ready, you nobly piloted it through storms and obstructions; and since you were its presiding officer the Society was able to take its place side-by-side with the best in the land. Progress is the motto of all civilized societies, and we all have come to the conclusion to form a closer band of friendship around us to take more solemn obligations, to form in a body which shall unite us as brothers still closer for all life to come. I am certain in what I say now, I express the wish of us all; if it be God's will, that our efforts to form an order called the "Berith Abraham" be crowned with success, that you, Brother Cohen, be our standard bearer, and the man to show us the light of true brotherly love, and to dispense then from your elevated seat, words to lead us to unity, concord and brotherly love, which in these days is so much wanted by mankind, very much sought for, seldom found, but if found, very seldom carried out in the real sense of its meaning. "United we stand, divided we fall," Brother Cohen, is the aged's motto to live by, and what satisfaction will it be to you and each of us to depart this life, knowing that we have lived to be useful to each other, and everybody to be happy, as we have ought to be, after the words of the Holy Scripture, "Love thy neighbor as thou wouldst love thyself." In presenting you this testimonial—this gold-headed cane, you will find on its front the inscription most moral value. Brotherly love, affection and regard cannot be expressed or rewarded by gifts of jewels or money. Great warriors, statesmen and men of ability in our mother countries are rewarded and decorated with stars and other ornaments, which they wear to show the people and remind them of their deeds. You, Brother Cohen, can wear this decoration and testimonial to show your fellow men what you have done for us, and it came as a token of love, and whenever your eyes behold it, behold us all is a body—your truest friends. Keep it as an heirloom of your family, and let this small gift be cherished by your children, that they may know how useful their father was to his fellow men, and learn to follow in his steps.

Accept our sincere wishes for your future welfare, and that of your family; and should ever a time come that a brother leaves our social circle, let this token remind you of him in his absence, and in spores of years, when your hair turns gray and your limbs grow feeble, lean on this staff; it will support you, as happy will and shall be the man who, in his old age, can rest on a star or pillar created and erected by good deeds in the happy and vigorous time of his youth and manhood.

This address was received with every manifestation of approbation. At its close Mr. Cohen responded as follows:

BROTHER CHAIRMAN, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: In answer to your most eloquent address I can hardly find language adequate enough to express my feelings. This is the happiest moment in my life. Your devoted friendship toward me I will remember so long as the blood will continue to flow in my veins. It has seldom been my lot to meet such a devoted body of friends, and I assure you that the friendship bestowed upon me shall not be wasted, and I will continue in the future as I have in the past, to try and merit your esteem and the honor you have seen fit to bestow upon me.

Mr. Chairman, you have alluded to the United Hebrew Brethren Benefical Society being no more. True, they are no more by that name, but if God gives me life and strength, I will yet raise the United Hebrew Brethren Benefical Society, although in another union, to be one of the best of organizations in the United States of America—namely, the "Berith Abraham," and, as I have worked and toiled in the United Hebrew Brethren Benefical Society, I will endeavor to do in the organization we are about to form.

Had I not known that the new order which we are about to join holds out superior advantages to us members, I would never have been satisfied for a dissolution of the old society. When I read the constitution and by-laws of the "Berith Abraham" (kindly by Gunsenheimer), we, any sane man must have seen, the superiority of the same over our old institution, and I hope and trust that I will be able to place the "Berith Abraham," as far as intelligence, morality and charity are concerned, beside the best societies of its kind.

Mr. Chairman, allow me to express to you my hearty thanks for this magnificent gift, not for its value in gold, but for the value it has for me, in knowing, as I do, that it is a testimonial of friendship from my most devoted friends, and I hope and trust that my services in the future will only be enough to give you all the satisfaction they have given in the past. Again allow me to thank you and all the brethren who have honored me this evening, both with their presence and their kind donation.

The establishment of this new association upon the ruins or in the stead of that which formerly obtained, is suggestive of improvement. There are principles enjoined in the working of the new order, which more cordially unites the brotherhood than existed under the ancien regime. This is sufficiently indicated in the speeches delivered on the interesting occasion we have attempted to describe. May it have a long life, and be conducive to the happiness and prosperity of its members, and unite them by the lasting ties of friendship that can only be severed by the grave, and even after that is preserved in perpetual remembrance, symbolized by the chain of memory.

The assemblage of ladies and gentlemen, enlivened by the good cheer, had quite an entertainment additional, in a very animated speech from Rev. Mr. Patterson, who described the power of the rod or cane, and showed that it was an emblem in the great travail of the wilderness. A number of sentiments were offered, and Messrs. Beak, of the Appeal, and Marshall, of the Avalanche, responded to compliments to the press of Memphis. It was a most agreeable reunion, an elegant entertainment, and the enjoyment was universal.

RIVER NEWS.

AVALANCHE OFFICE,
SATURDAY, October 26.

BUSINESS—WEATHER—RIVERS.

On Thursday night a rain set in, which lasted during yesterday, and had not ceased at a late hour last night. It was accompanied with a cold wind, which portends the near approach of frost, if not winter. The health of our city is much improved within the past two or three days, and the fever which has prevailed is assuming a mild type. It certainly has not been fatal at any time, when it is remembered that out of from twenty-five to thirty cases a day reported, the deaths have not averaged five per day, and on some days have not exceeded three, and this out of a population of fifty thousand. There has been a swell in the Ohio from recent rains, and our dispatches quote an improvement at Louisville of four or five inches since Wednesday. Whether a rise of any moment will come out of that river has yet to be ascertained. At St. Louis the river is rising or falling, but as the river men and City Engineer are at variance on the subject, we are not sure which.

IN PORT.

Pilgrim, Dan. Able, Commercial, Ned Tracey, Guidon.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Peoria City, Captain Silvers, will leave for St. Louis this evening at five o'clock.

The steamer Bayard, laid up at Pittsburg, caught fire about noon on the 23d, but was saved with little damage.

Captain Josiah G. Hurd died at his home in Portsmouth, on the 23d instant. He was in command of the ill-fated Missouri at the time of her explosion, and a few days ago passed through Cincinnati with the remains of his wife and little son, who were lost on the boat at that time. He also lost a son a short time ago, at Illawarra landing, by yellow fever.

The G. A. Thompson sunk a barge, a few days ago, at Williams' landing, at the head of Cypress bend. Some of the freight was saved.

The Robinson will be in port to-day to-day at five p.m. for Vicksburg and the bends. She is the only boat to-day, as we have no regular packet. Bill Blake is master, and Alf. Grissom clerk.

Captain J. Lee Finney, who has for a few trips had charge of the Pilgrim's office, left yesterday for St. Louis. Captain Finney will soon come out on the Memphis and Evansville packet.

Captain Miller, of the firm of Levy & Miller, as well as his brother, Mr. Wm. Miller, clerk of the Des Arc, are again around, after undergoing a short spell of sickness and going on the docks for repairs. Their many friends will rejoice to hear of both being quite valescent.

The J. D. Perry could not see enough to justify a trip to Vicksburg, so she does not enter the trade.

The City of Cairo will leave to-day, at five p.m. for Cairo and St. Louis. She is a No. 1 packet, and is commanded by Captain Bob Riley. Mr. White is clerk.

Will our loves from Court to Union streets be paved this season? Why should the work not be prosecuted forthwith? Stir 'em up, Mr. Wharfmaster!

The Stonewall received a cargo of live Radicals at New Orleans, bound from Germany to the Northwest. They wear short petticoats, wooden shoes, and are anxious for elections day to roll around.

The Kellogg, on her up trip, was compelled to leave three loaded barges at Phillips, owing to a derangement of her rudder and the breaking of her wheel. One of her pilots and her second engineer died on the trip, and of her original crew she brought back but four to St. Louis. The rest jumped at various points.

Jeff. Thompson, who has been down to Bootleg, is now in Portopolis.

The steamer Berlina, Captain Yerkes, will sail for New Orleans this evening at five o'clock.

The Pilgrim is the Fine Bluff and Little Rock packet for to-day, and will leave at five p.m. She is commanded by Captain Berry.

The Myrtle, Captain Hardwick, departs to-day at five p.m. for Vicksburg and all points on the Yazoo, Talishatchie and Yalobusha rivers.

The steamer Bayard will be in port to-day at five p.m for Duvall's Bluff and Augusta. She connects at the former place with the train for Little Rock. Captain Ashford is master of the Commercial, and Morton and Smithers are clerks.

The Ned Tracey arrived behind time last evening. She put off a large trip, received a lot of cotton, and will leave to-day at ten a.m. for Cairo and St. Louis. Reliable as ever, and possessing the splendid passenger accommodations, Captain Crane is master, and our polite and obliging friend, Billy Bleaker, is clerk.

We learn by a dispatch from Captains Ashford and Davis to Messrs. Levy & Miller that the Commercial ran upon a snag at Little Island, and knocked a hole in her larboard side, about or above the water mark. The damage to the injury to the boat was not serious, but the freight in the hold was damaged so much that protest was entered at Helena. The Rowena took the Commercial's freight, and the latter boat returns to this port. Captain Levy has a dock ready, and the Commercial will leave again this evening at the regular hour.

From the St. Louis Times we learn that the Imperial is hard aground at Harrison's Island, with two hundred and sixty passengers on board. It was doubtful if she would be able to work herself off. Provisions were scant, and it was feared that there would soon be suffering for food among the passengers. The Zephyr was forty miles below Benton, waiting for her trip. There were but fourteen ladies of water on the rocks, and it was deemed unsafe for them to attempt to make the return trip. The Gallatin, last reported sunk at Dardanelle's Rapids, had been raised, but was so seriously injured that it had been determined to abandon her, and work her. All the boats on the upper Missouri are having much trouble.

MONETARY.

RUSSIAN WAR POSSIT.

Why Russia Wishes France and Germany Engaged.

From the Grins, of Saint Petersburg, Oct. 4.]

Count de Bismarck is evidently employing every means to exhaust the patience of the French, and to provoke, within a brief period, a conflict which he regards as inevitable. The Cabinet of St. Petersburg could have no motive for preventing a war between France and Prussia. Whatever might be the issue of it, it is certain that the change which would ensue in the equilibrium of European power could not but be favorable to us. France, with her brilliant army and her almost unlimited credit in every market in the world, is, in fact, a very dangerous rival to Russia in the East, while, at the close of a severe and sanguinary war, her eyes temporarily impaired strength would naturally be advantageous for us. As to Prussia, let us never forget that one day or other she will become Germany, and for that reason the enemy of Sclavonianism and consequently of Russia. A war between the two nations is therefore ultimately inevitable. But Prussia would not come out of a war with France more powerful than she is at the present time. On the contrary, it may easily happen that she would be in some degree weaker, in which case our dangers would be diminished in the same proportion as her strength. Let us, therefore, not prevent the Prussians from going to war with whom they please. Let us rather stir up their bellicose ardor, in order that we may derive from them similar benefits to those which they reaped at our expense during the Crimean campaign. If this policy does not suit the taste of poets, it is on the other hand, extremely reasonable.

DEATH OF AVONIA JONES.

Reconciliation of her Father and Mother.

The Count Joannes is deeply stricken by the death of his daughter, Avonia Jones Brooke, and writes a narrative of her illness and of his reconciliation, by the side of her dying bed, with the wife from whom he had been separated for twenty years. The scene he describes as follows: "Overcome by the deep emotion of my sensitive nature, nearly blinded by my burning tears, my brain on fire for days past by another domestic affliction worse that death, I could not speak, but knelt down, and taking Avonia's extended right hand in both of my own, I kissed and bathed it with my flowing tears, praying to our Heavenly Father to prolong her life. Raising my eyes to gaze upon my daughter, they suddenly met those of the sorrowful mother, Melinda. I instantly extended to her my right hand, which, with deep emotion, she clasped in her own; and at the same moment, Avonia, observing the pious action of her parents, pressed with a dying grasp the hands of both. Thus, with the clasped hands over the very heart of Avonia, father, mother and daughter, all of proverbial intellect, separated for years, and by thousands of miles, heretofore estranged and alienated, were again united, in that solemn moment, in mutual blessing and forgiveness!"

Desperate Fight with a Grizzly.

A correspondent of the Helena (Montana) Gazette, writing from Camp Green Clay Smith, near the Yellowstone, gives the following thrilling account of a bear fight:

Orderly Sergeant S. R. Shroke, of company E, Captain Campbell, formerly of Monroe, Wisconsin, having been in Montana some time less than a year, thought he must needs signalize his mountain life by despatching, single handed, a huge grizzly. Accordingly, on the 5th instant, when out hunting, about fifty miles from this camp, on the east branch of the Powder, the opportunity was embraced to do so.

Leisurely proceeding on his way, his tranquility of mind was suddenly disturbed by seeing a bear just ahead of him. Their eyes met simultaneously, bruin's vengefully glaring. The sergeant halted and cocked his piece. The bear came right on, as if, understanding the maneuver, he would show how contemptiously he regarded it. But the sergeant, equally defiant—and prudence, perhaps, less slight—of that novel ambition which a majority of those recently from the East have to kill a grizzly while in the mountains—leveled his rifle and fired, just as his savage foe reared on his hind legs to close with him. His bullet struck close to, if it did not penetrate the heart. The bear fell. Regaining his feet, with a fierce, terrible growl, he wheeled and endeavored to escape. Calling to his companion, who was probably 150 yards in the rear, to come quickly to him, upon his arrival they pursued the animal together. When within twenty yards, the sergeant, having reloaded, again fired, and thinks he shot the bear well up on the shoulder, and about midway of the body; his companion immediately succeeded with his bullet, planting a good ounce of lead in one of the huge beast's shoulders.

Bruin now turned upon and pursued his foes. They stood their ground, and when Sergeant Shroke had reloaded the bear was within ten feet of him, coming with unabated speed. He levelled when he almost imagined he could feel the monster's hot breath in his face. The trigger is pulled; the percussion proves faulty. With the undischarged gun in his hand, a powerful blow of the infuriated grizzly carries away the greater part of his scalp. Before reaching the ground the bear has caught in his mouth the left hand of the Sergeant, his teeth meeting among its cords and sinews. The Sergeant sinks to the ground beneath the shaggy giant, whose hold on his hand is still unrelaxed, when his companion reaches the spot and sends a bullet into the beast's head. Stunned, but still having murderous vitality, the bear rolls over on his back, and his red tongue again protrudes from his mouth to once more close on the sergeant. Quick as thought the sergeant thrust his right hand down the animals throat and fiercely grasped his tongue. His companion has reloaded his piece and puts a third bullet in the bear's head. Again the bear withdrew his ivories, and catching in his mouth the sergeant's gun, commenced vigorously chewing off the stock. Now, regaining his feet, the sergeant discharged two bullets from his revolver. These ended the contest with the death of the bear. The sergeant returned to camp in indiscribable agony, and, though still suffering with great pain, he is in a fair way of speedy recovery; but he will carry to his last moment the scars of this desperate adventure. He says he "has killed the bar, and don't want nothin' more to do with the critters."

Mr. Stoner Declines to trot "Dexter."

LEDGER OFFICE, No. 90 BEEKMAN STREET, NEW YORK, October 18, 1867.

MY DEAR COMMODORE: The good natured contest between you and myself for the ownership of the fastest trotting horse in the world is attracting increased attention, on account of the recent performances of Mountain Boy, and your published letters concerning him. I have observed the challenge by your trainer, which I rather expected to see you disavow, as you know I never enter any of my horses in a public race. That certainly is not necessary to test the relative speed of horses. No one can concede more cheerfully than I do the merits of your admirable horse. His best performance, reckoning as his the 2:24 in which he was beaten by both Thorn and Lucy, was only 6¾ seconds—or at Dexter's rate of going, between seventy and eighty yards—behind Dexter. Whenever your horse shall have closed up this gap, and have equalled Dexter's time—2:17¾—and he needs nothing but increased speed and bottom to do this, it will be soon enough for me to feel respond to your publications. Until then, dear Commodore, I shall remain—and I do in a the happy relation promises to continue a good while—as ever, sincerely yours,

ROBERT BONNER.

Trustee's Sale.

BY virtue of a trust deed, made by William H. Grider, to secure A. V. Watson, Wheeler & S. Hammond was given Trustee, of this date, which is recorded in the Register's office, Shelby county, Tennessee, in book No. 46, pages 135, 136 and 137, and by virtue of a decree of the Chancery Court of Memphis, passed on the 15th day of October, 1867, on the application of J. F. Hammond, administrator with the will annexed of A. V. Watson, deceased, and in pursuance of said trust and decree the undersigned, as Master, appointed in said decree, will sell at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Memphis, to the highest and best bidder for cash, on Saturday, the 30th day of November, 1867, all that certain lot of ground, with all the improvements thereon, conveyed in said deed of trust, described, which is on the east side of Main street, between Monroe and Madison streets, and is the south half of the eastern half of that piece of land fronting 50 feet on Main, and with a depth of 165 feet, two parallel lines, of equal width, with a front of 50½ feet on St. Patrick street, at the corner of Court.

Monday, November 4, 1867.

This believed to be good, but I sell and convey only as Trustee. J. W. HAMPTON, oct7 Trustee.

Trustee's Sale.

BY virtue of a deed of trust to me executed by John H. Wagoner, on the twenty-ninth day of June, 1867, which deed is of record in the Register's office of Shelby county, in book No. 46, pages 178, 179 and 180, to secure to Hiram A. Fuller the payment of twenty-six promissory notes, of even date with said deed, and payable to the order of said Fuller, I will, on Tuesday, the twenty-ninth of October, 1867, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Memphis, during the usual hours for such sales, proceed to sell to the highest bidder for cash the property in said deed of trust described, to wit: Lots numbered three (3) and four (4) of the subdivision of Lot No. 18, in subdivision C, in the partition of the estate of A. R. Orgill, and a strip of land off the north side of said lot, fronting on Main street, and described as follows, to wit: Beginning at a stake on Main street, 50 feet north of the northeast corner of said lot No. 18, in subdivision C, in the partition of the estate of A. R. Orgill, and a stake in the east line of said lot No. 18
